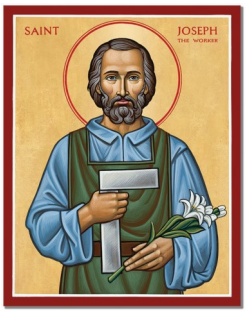
Saints of the week

St. Peter Damian 1007—72 AD 13th March
Born at Ravenna, lost both his parents in childhood. Became a monk in 1035 when he joined the Camaldolese Benedictine Monastery. Peter became abbot in 1043. In 1057 he was appointed bishop of Ostia. He took a prominent part in the Gregorian Reform .

St. Patrick

Patrick first came to Ireland as a slave. In his loneliness, he discovered God's deep love for him and found faith. He began to pray. After his escaped from captivity, Patrick had a vision. He heard 'the voice of the Irish', imploring him to come and walk once more among them. Patrick returned as a missionary, visiting parts of the country where the faith had never been preached. A short time later, Ireland was sending out its own missionaries to restore Europe's faith. Patrick, you brought the Good News to our ancestors and taught them to share it—pray for us.

St. Cyril of Jerusalem, 315-86 Bishop of Jerusalem. He excelled as a catechist and administrator, and suffered exile in his fight against Arianism.



St. Joseph

Joseph was engaged to Mary when he discovered she was pregnant. He knew he was not the child's father. An angel appeared to him and told him what to do. After Jesus was born, Joseph was warned in another dream that Herod planned to kill the child. He brought Jesus and Mary to Egypt, to protect them from harm.
People still pray to St. Joseph for protection, remembering his fatherly care for Jesus. Joseph is also the patron saint of the Church, of fathers and of a happy death.
