Saints of the Week

22nd St. Vincent Deacon of the church of Saragossa, Spain. Martyred in Valencia after prolonged torture during the persecution of The Roman Emperor Diocletian . Died 304.

24th January St. Francis de Sales, 1567-1622

Bishop of Geneva, founder of the Visitation Sisters. He worked with gentleness and love to rebuild the Catholic faith after the Reformation. Patron saint of writers, editors and journalists.

25th January The Conversion of St Paul. The feast celebrates the conversion of a man that was to bring the message of Christ to the nations of the world. The influence of Paul can be seen in the Acts of the Apostles and in his letters to the churches that he founded or visited.

26th January Sts. Timothy and Titus were close to St. Paul as followers and later in their work with him. Tradition makes Timothy the first bishop of Ephesus. And from Paul's advice to him to take some wine for his stomach's sake, he as been invoked as patron in cases of stomach complaint.

27th January St. Agela Merici, Tuesday 27th January Foundress of the Ursulines, devoted herself to Christian education based on love, kindness with firmness, and concern for the individual. 1474 -1540

28th January St. Thomas Aquinas 28th January Was born in Italy in 1224. He became a Dominican friar in 1244. He studied in Paris and Cologne under St Albert the Great. His greatest work, the Summa Theologiae, occupied him from 1267 to 1273. Patron of schools, universities, students and booksellers

As much as 67% of the world's population lives in countries where the right to religious freedom is denied.

"How can we allow that in this society, which is so civilised, there are people who are persecuted simply because they publicly profess their faith?" If we allow what makes us different to separate us, we will lose sight of something fundamental: "As human beings, we have so many things in common that we can live alongside each other, welcoming our differences with the joy of being brothers and sisters."

." "How is it possible that many religious minorities currently suffer discrimination or persecution? Not only is it unacceptable; it's inhuman, it's insane. Religious freedom is not limited to freedom of worship – that is to say, that people can have a worship service on the day prescribed by their sacred books. Rather, it makes us appreciate others in their differences and recognise them as true brothers and sisters. As human beings, we have so many things in common that we can live alongside each other, welcoming our differences with the joy of being brothers and sisters. And may a small difference, or a substantial difference such as a religious one, not obscure the great uniformity of being human beings, the great unity of being brothers and sisters."

Let us follow the advice the Pope gives us in his January prayer intention: "Let us choose the path of fraternity

Let us choose the path of fraternity. Because either we are brothers and sisters, or we all lose. Let us pray for all those suffering from religious discrimination and persecution; may their own rights and dignity be recognised, which originate from being brothers and sisters in the human family."
