Sts. Cyril & Methodius

Cyril, a priest with missionary experience, and his brother Methodius, a monk, went to Moravia to preach the gospel in the Slav language. Cyril invented a Slavic alphabet, and, with the help of Methodius, translated the Gospels and certain liturgical works into Slavonic. They were consecrated bishops in Rome but there on February 14th 869, Cyril died. Methodius returned to Moravia. During the last four years of his life, he completed the Slavonic translation of the Bible. On April 6, 885, he died, worn out by his apostolic labours and by the opposition of those who failed to understand his methods. Pope John Paul II declared them Patrons of Europe.
