Saints of the Week

St. Peter Damian 1007—72 AD 13th March

Born at Ravenna, lost both his parents in childhood. Became a monk in 1035 when he joined the Camaldolese Benedictine Monastery. Peter became abbot in 1043. In 1057 he was appointed bishop of Ostia. He took a prominent part in the Gregorian Reform

St. Patrick

Patrick first came to Ireland as a slave. In his loneliness, he discovered God's deep love for him and found faith. He began to pray. After he escaped from captivity, Patrick had a vision. He heard 'the voice of the Irish', imploring him to come and walk once more among them. Patrick returned as a missionary, visiting parts of the country where the faith had never been preached. A short time later, Ireland was sending out its own missionaries to restore Europe's faith. Patrick, you brought the Good News to our ancestors and taught them to share it—pray for us.

St. Cyril of Jerusalem, 315-86 Bishop of Jerusalem. He excelled as a catechist and administrator, and suffered exile in his fight against Arianism.

Trócaire works with local and church partners to support communities in over 20 developing countries with a focus on food and resource rights, women's empowerment and humanitarian response. Pls take a box available in church porch

The Kilchreest/Castledaly community alert group will hold a meeting in April to discuss if and how to continue with the text alert scheme as funds are running low.

Anyone interested in helping to continue the community alert please contact kilchreestcastledalyca@gmail.com.

The aim of Community Alert/Text Alert Groups are to encourage all members of the local community to report unusual activity or vehicles in the area to Gort Gardaí 091 636400. The Gardaí decide if a text alert is circulated.

Why a shamrock?

Patrick used the shamrock to explain the Trinity, and has been associated with him and the Irish since that time. In His Footsteps: Patrick was a humble, pious, gentle man, whose love and total devotion to and trust in God should be a shining example to each of us. He feared nothing, not even death, so complete was his trust in God, and of the importance of his mission.

Beannachtaí Na Féile Páraic oraibh

Saint Patrick was a fifth-century Romano-British Christian missionary and bishop in Ireland. Known as the "Apostle of Ireland", he is the primary patron saint of Ireland, Patrick was never formally canonised,^[2] having lived prior to the current laws of the Catholic Church in these matters. Nevertheless, he is venerated as a Saint in the Catholic Church and in the Eastern Orthodox Church, where he is regarded as equal-to-the-apostles and Enlightener of Ireland. He is also regarded as a Saint within the framework of their respective doctrine by the Anglican Communion and the Lutheran Churches.^[3]

The dates of Patrick's life cannot be fixed with certainty, but there is general agreement that he was active as a missionary in Ireland during the fifth century. A recent biography^[4] on Patrick shows a late fourth-century date for the saint is not impossible.^[5] Early medieval tradition credits him with being the first bishop of Armagh and Primate of Ireland, and regards him as the founder of Christianity in Ireland, converting a society practising a form of Celtic polytheism. He has been generally so regarded ever since, despite evidence of some earlier Christian presence in Ireland.^[1] he was about sixteen. when he was captured by Irish pirates from his home in Britain and taken as a slave to Ireland, looking after animals; he lived there for six years before escaping and returning to his family. After becoming a cleric, he returned to northern and western Ireland. In later life, he served as a bishop, but little is known about the places where he worked. By the seventh century, he had already come to be revered as the patron saint of Ireland.
