On Palm Sunday we celebrate the triumphal entry of Jesus Christ into Jerusalem, the week before his death and resurrection. For many Christian churches, Palm Sunday, often referred to as "Passion Sunday," marks the beginning of Holy Week, which concludes on Easter Sunday. The Bible reveals that when Jesus entered Jerusalem, the crowds greeted him by waving palm branches and covering his path with palm branches. Immediately following this great time of celebration in the ministry of Jesus, he begins his journey to the cross

CS Lewis wrote in his Poems that love was as warm as tears: unsettling, uninvited, cleansing, and comforting. It was fierce as fire, flickering with life, smouldering with rage, constant as some eternal flame. Love, too, was as fresh as spring, new and alive, daring and bold. But he ended this song of Love with the most telling stanza of all:

Love's as hard as nails,
 Love is nails.
 Blunt, thick, hammered through
 The medial nerves of One
 Who, having made us, knew
 The thing He had done,
 Seeing (with all that is)

Our cross, an Good Friday's wood, on which hung the Saviour of the world, remains waiting for our kiss. It bore the one who says to us, now and eternally, from the cross: "Yes, you needed this. And yes, you were worth it."
