Saints of the Week

16th St Bernadette. Bernadette Soudirous one of six children, she witnessed the apparition of Mary in the grotto Lourdes at the age of fourteen. She after many periods of questioning both by the church and the state she held to her story, that Mary revealed to her that she was the Immaculate Conception. She later entered the convent of the Sisters of Notre Dame at Nevers. She died there at the age of 35. She was canonized in 1933.

21st St Anselm Piedmont Italy, he entered the Benedictian Monastery in Asto Italy, but under pressure from his father he left and after a difficult period of time as a young man he fled to France and entered a monastery Bec, France. He later became the abbot, his reputation for preaching grew, and he also reformed the monastery. He wrote many great works of theology during this period. He was appointed as archbishop of Canterbury, he had to go into exile on two occasions because of disputes between Rome and London. He died in 1109.

The disciples came to believe by seeing the empty tomb. By seeing they remembered Jesus' promise that he would be raised up after three days. Thus they came to believe. We have no empty tomb to help us remember and come to believe. In a sense, though, we have something much stronger:

we have the preaching of eyewitnesses, our seeing comes through hearing an unbroken chain of witnesses preaching Christ raised from the dead. Jesus commissioned his disciples to preach; they preach not only the good news of forgiveness of sins and the coming of God's reign, but disciples also preach by their witness to new life in Christ.

Easter Sunday then, is more than a celebration of the resurrection of Christ. It is also an invitation to each of us to preach the gospel and take our place in the long line of witnesses to Jesus' resurrected life. Perhaps this is why we are so awed at the mystery: not just that Jesus was raised from the dead, but that God entrusts us with Jesus' mission and to be witnesses of God's mighty deed of resurrection. It appears as though God trusts us a great deal. No wonder we continually sing out Alleluia—it means so many things: Christ's resurrected life and our share in it; Seeing and believing; Witnessing these great events.
