Saints of the Week

1st All Saints The feast is of Celtic origin and was celebrated 20th April in Ireland. Later the date moved to 1st of November. In Europe the feast was celebrated on 13th May and in the Eastern Churches the first Sunday after Pentecost.

2nd Nov. All Souls The feast was celebrated in the Monasteries to commemorate the dead outside of their anniversaries. It later spread to the universal Church. The Dominicans started the celebration of three mass on the day for the deceased. In 1915 Pope Benedict XV extended this to the whole Church, this was done in the shadow of WWI and the huge number of dead.

3rd St Malachy, Patron Saint of Archdiocese of Armagh and Diocese Down and Connor A native of Armagh, Malachy first became Bishop of Connor and later archbishop of Armagh, from which he led the reform of the Irish Church. Later he retired to the dioceses of Down. He died at Clairvaux in the year 1148 while on a mission to the pope. He was buried there in front of the high altar and five years later St Bernard was buried in the same grave.

St Martin de Porres Born in Lima Peru, father was Spanish and mother was a freed slave. He received a Christian education and became a pharmacist. He entered the Dominican order, as a brother, and was assigned to the infirmary. His work was among the poor and the sick and was his reputation grew because of his good work.

4th Saint Charles Borromeo. Born in Lombardy in 1538, after obtaining his doctorate in both Canon and Civil law he was created a Cardinal by Pope Pius IV and was chosen as bishop of Milan. He became a true pastor of his people and frequently visited around his diocese, called reforming synods and made wise regulation for the good of his people
